

Fair Processing Notice (Privacy Notice)

Your Personal Information – what you need to know

Who we are and what we do

NHS Surrey Heath Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) is responsible for securing, planning, designing and paying for your NHS services, including planned and emergency hospital care, as well as community and primary medical care (GP) services. We also have a performance monitoring role for these services, which includes ensuring that the highest quality of healthcare is provided and responding to any concerns from our patients on services offered. This is known as commissioning. For further information please refer to the 'About Us' page on our Website:

<http://www.surreyheathccg.nhs.uk/>

Our Commitment to Data Privacy and Confidentiality Issues

We are committed to protecting your privacy and will only process data in accordance with the Data Protection Legislation. This includes the General Data Protection Regulation (EU) 2016/679 (GDPR), the Data Protection Act (DPA) 2018, the Law Enforcement Directive (Directive (EU) 2016/680) (LED) and any applicable national Laws implementing them as amended from time to time.

In addition, consideration will also be given to all applicable Law concerning privacy, confidentiality, the processing and sharing of personal data including the Human Rights Act 1998, the Health and Social Care Act 2012 as amended by the Health and Social Care (Safety and Quality) Act 2015, the common law duty of confidentiality and the Privacy and Electronic Communications (EC Directive) Regulations..

NHS Surrey Heath CCG is a Data Controller as defined under the GDPR. We are legally responsible for ensuring that all personal information that we process i.e. hold, obtain, record, use or share about you, is done in compliance with the six Data Protection Principles as set out in Article 5 under GDPR.

All data controllers must notify the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) of all personal information processing activities. Our ICO Data Protection Registration number is A8265660 and our entry can be found in the Data Protection Register on the Information Commissioner's Office website

Everyone working for the NHS has a legal duty to keep information about you confidential. The NHS Care Record Guarantee and NHS Constitution provide a commitment that all NHS organisations and those providing care on behalf of the NHS will use records about you in ways that respect your rights and promote your health and wellbeing.

If you are receiving services from the NHS, we share information that does not identify you (anonymised) with other NHS and social care partner agencies for the purpose of improving local services, research, audit and public health.

The CCG is required by law to protect the public funds it administers. It may share information provided to it with other bodies responsible for auditing or administering public funds, or where undertaking a public function, in order to prevent and detect fraud.

All information that we hold about you will be held securely and confidentially. We use administrative and technical controls to do this. We use strict controls to ensure that only a limited number of authorised staff are able to see information that identifies you. Only a limited number of authorised staff have access to information that identifies you where it is appropriate to their role and is strictly on a need-to-know basis.

All of our staff, contractors and committee members receive role appropriate and on-going training to ensure they are aware of their personal responsibilities and have contractual obligations to uphold confidentiality, enforceable through disciplinary procedures.

We will only use the minimum amount of information necessary about you.

We will only retain information in accordance with the schedules set out in the Records Management Code of Practice.

What kind of information do we use?

As a Commissioner we do not routinely hold or have access to your medical records. However, we may need to hold some personal information about you, for example:

- Your name, address, your date of birth and your NHS number, contact details
- Details of your GP, what treatment you have received and where you received it
- Details of concerns or complaints you have raised about your healthcare provision and we need to investigate
- Details of clinical concerns raised by your General Practitioner (GP) or service providers about your healthcare provision
- If you ask us for our help or involvement with your healthcare, or where we are required to fund specific specialised treatment for a particular condition that is not already covered in our contracts with organisations that provide NHS care
- If you ask us to keep you regularly informed and up-to-date about the work of the CCG, or if you are actively involved in our engagement and consultation activities or service user/Patient Participation Groups

Our records may include relevant information that you have told us, or information provided on your behalf by relatives or those who care for you and know you well, or from health professionals and other staff directly involved in your care and treatment. Our records may be held on paper or in a computer system.

We use the following types of information/data:

- Personal Data – means any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person ('data subject'); an identifiable natural person is one who can be identified, directly or indirectly, in particular by reference to an identifier such as a name, an identification number, location data, an online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that natural person. Article 4 of the GDPR
- Special Categories of Personal Data – this term describes personal data revealing racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, or trade union membership, and the processing of genetic data, biometric data for the purpose of uniquely identifying a natural person, data concerning health or data concerning a natural person's sex life or sexual orientation. Article 9 of the GDPR
- Confidential Patient Information – this term describes information or data relating to their health and other matters disclosed to another (e.g. patient to clinician) in circumstances where it is reasonable to expect that the information will be held in confidence. Including both information 'given in confidence' and 'that which is owed a duty of confidence'. As described in the Confidentiality: NHS code of Practice: Department of Health guidance on confidentiality 2003.
- Pseudonymised – this is data that has undergone a technical process that replaces your identifiable information such as NHS number, postcode, date of birth with a unique identifier, which obscures the 'real world' identity of the individual patient to those working with the data
- Anonymised – this is data about individuals but with identifying details removed so that there is little or no risk of the individual being re-identified
- Aggregated – anonymised information that is grouped together so that it doesn't identify individuals

What do we use your personal and special categories of personal data for?

There are some limited exceptions where we may hold and use personal data and special categories of personal data about you. For example the CCG is required by law to perform certain services that involve the processing of these data types.

The areas where we regularly use personal data and special categories of personal data include:

- responding to your queries, compliments or concerns
- assessment and evaluation of safeguarding concerns

We may also use this data in the following cases:

- the information is necessary for your direct healthcare needs

- we need to respond to patients, carers or Member of Parliament communications
- you have freely given your explicit agreement (consent) for us to use your information for a specific purpose
- there is an overriding public interest in using the information e.g. in order to safeguard an individual, or to prevent a serious crime
- there is a legal requirement that will allow us to use or provide information (e.g. a formal court order).

What do we use non-identifiable data for?

We use pseudonymised, anonymised and aggregated data to plan health care services. Specifically we use it to:

- check the quality and efficiency of the health services we commission
- prepare performance reports on the services we commission
- work out what illnesses people may have in the future, so we can plan and prioritise services and ensure these meet the needs of patients in the future
- review the care being provided to make sure it is of the highest standard
- Evaluate the services we have or have been commissioned on our behalf
- To support the regional and national initiatives through the Integrated Care Systems (ICS) or the Sustainability and Transformation Plan (STP)

Do we share your information with other organisations?

We commission a number of organisations (both within and outside the NHS) to provide healthcare services to you. We may also share anonymised and aggregated statistical information with them for the purpose of improving local services, research, audit and public health; for example understanding how health conditions spread across our local area compared against other areas.

We work in collaboration with other Commissioners and as part of the Frimley ICS to jointly commission services across Surrey and Hampshire. These require the inter-sharing of statistical information for the purposes of improving those services commissioned and the health outcomes of our population.

We would not share information that identifies you unless we have a fair and lawful basis such as:

- You have given us explicit consent;
- We need to act to protect children and vulnerable adults;
- When a formal court order has been served upon us;
- When we are lawfully required to report certain information to the appropriate authorities e.g. to prevent fraud or a serious crime;
- Emergency Planning reasons such as for protecting the health and safety of others;
- When there is an overriding public health interest e.g. communicable diseases as instructed by NHS England
- When permission is given by the Secretary of State or the Health Research Authority on the advice of the Confidentiality Advisory Group to process personal and special categories of personal data without the explicit consent of individuals

The Health and Social Care Act 2012 provides some NHS bodies, particularly NHS Digital (formally the Health and Social Care information Centre) ways of collecting and using patient data that cannot identify a person to help Commissioners to design and procure the combination of services that best suit the population they serve.

How we process information within the CCG

The CCG contracts with other organisations to process data on our behalf. These organisations are known as 'Processors' and we ensure they are legally and contractually bound, providing sufficient guarantees to implement appropriate technical and organisational measures in such a manner that processing will meet the requirements of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and ensure the protection of the rights of the data subject.

Data may be anonymised and linked with other data so that it can be used to improve healthcare and development and monitor NHS performance. Where data is used for these statistical purposes, stringent and technical measures are taken to ensure individual patients cannot be identified.

When analysing current health services and proposals for developing future services it is sometimes necessary to link separate individual datasets to be able to produce a comprehensive evaluation. This may involve linking primary care data from your Doctor (GP) with other data such as hospital inpatient stays, outpatient appointments and A&E attendances; this type of data is called secondary uses service (SUS) data. In some cases there may also be a need to link local datasets which could include a range of other hospital based services such as radiology, physiotherapy, audiology etc., as well as mental health and community-based clinics and services such as district nursing, podiatry etc. When carrying out this analysis, the linkage of these datasets is always done using a pseudonym (unique identifier), applied by NHS Digital, that does not reveal a person's identity as the CCG does not have any access to identifiable data for these purposes.

A full list of details including the legal basis, any Data Processor involvement and the purposes for processing information can be found in Appendix A.

What safeguards are in place to ensure data that identifies you is secure?

We only use information that may identify you in accordance with the data protection legislation (as defined in the Data Protection Act 2018). The data protection legislation requires us to process personal data only if there is a legitimate/legal basis for doing so and that any processing must be fair, lawful and transparent.

Within the health sector, we also have to follow the common law duty of confidentiality, which means that where identifiable information about you has been given in confidence, it should be treated as confidential and only shared for the purpose of providing direct healthcare.

Everyone working for the NHS has a legal duty to keep information about you confidential. The NHS Care Record Guarantee and NHS Constitution provide a commitment that all NHS organisations and those providing care on behalf of the NHS will use records about you in ways that respect your rights and promote your health and wellbeing.

The Confidentiality: NHS Code of Practice applies to all of our staff, and they are required to protect your information, inform you of how your information will be used, and allow you to decide if and how your information can be shared. All CCG staff are expected to make sure information is kept confidential and receive annual training on how to do this. This is monitored by the CCG and can be enforced through disciplinary procedures.

We also ensure the information we hold is kept in secure locations, restrict access to information to authorised personnel only, protect personal and confidential information held on equipment such as laptops with encryption (which masks data so that unauthorised users cannot see or make sense of it).

We ensure external data processors that support us are legally and contractually bound to operate and prove security arrangements are in place where data that could or does identify a person are processed.

Accountability

The CCG has a senior member of staff responsible for protecting the confidentiality of patient information. This person is called the Caldicott Guardian. The contact details of our Caldicott Guardian are as follows:

Dr John Fraser
Tel: 01276 707572
Email: John.Fraser4@nhs.net

They are supported by another senior member of staff who is responsible for information risk and information security, this person is called the Senior Information Risk Owner (SIRO). The contact details of our SIRO are as follows:

Robert Morgan – Chief Finance Officer
Tel: 01276 707572
Email: Robert.Morgan2@nhs.net

The CCG has a Data Protection Officer (DPO) responsible for; monitoring compliance with the GDPR and other data protection legislation, Information Governance (IG) policies, providing advice and guidance, raising awareness, training and audits. The DPO acts as a contact point for the ICO, our employees and the public. They co-operate with the ICO and will consult on any other matter relevant to Data Protection. The contact details of our DPO are as follows:

Tel: 01276 707572

Email: DPO.SHCCG@nhs.net

The CCG is registered with the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) as a data controller and collects data for a variety of purposes. Our registration number is Z3628479 and a copy of the registration is available through the ICO website.

How long do we hold information for?

The CCGs approach to the management of its business records are in line with national guidance from NHS Digital, Records Management Code of Practice. The code of practice sets out the best practice for NHS organisations to follow. To ensure compliance the CCG's records shall not be retained indefinitely and once information that we hold has been identified for destruction it will be disposed of in the most appropriate way for the type of information it is. Confidential information (whether personal or commercially) will be disposed of by approved and secure confidential waste procedures

Your right to opt out of data sharing and processing

The NHS Constitution states 'You have a right to request that your personal confidential information is not used beyond your own direct care and treatment and to have your objections considered'. For further information please visit: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/the-nhs-constitution-for-england>

Direct care is defined as a clinical, social or public health activity concerned with the prevention, investigation and treatment of illness and the alleviation or suffering of an individual.

Indirect care is defined as work within the health and social care environment which does not involve the direct treatment or support of individuals e.g. research, commissioning and much of the work done in public health.

There are several forms of opt-outs available at different levels. These include for example:

Information directly collected by the CCG. Your choices can be exercised by withdrawing your consent for the sharing of information that identifies you, unless there is an overriding legal obligation. We will first need to explain how this may affect the care you receive but you can do this by writing to us.

Information not directly collected by the CCG but collected by organisations that provide NHS services. These are known as Type 1 and National data opt-outs (previously Type 2) and are described below:

Type 1 opt-out.

If you do not want personal confidential information that identifies you to be shared outside your GP practice, for purposes beyond your direct care, you can register a 'Type 1 Opt-Out' with your GP practice. This prevents your personal confidential information from being used other than in particular circumstances required by law, such as a public health emergency like an outbreak of a pandemic disease.

Patients are only able to register an opt-out at their GP practice.

Records for patients who have registered a 'Type 1 Opt-Out' will be identified using a particular code that will be applied to your medical records that will stop your records from being shared outside of your GP Practice.

National data opt-out

The national data opt-out was introduced on 25 May 2018 and replaces the previous 'type 2' opt-out. NHS Digital collects information from a range of places where people receive care, such as hospitals and community services. The new programme provides a facility for individuals to opt-out from the use of their data for research or planning purposes. For anyone who had an existing type 2 opt-out, it will have been automatically converted to a national data opt-out from 25 May 2018 and will receive a letter giving them more information and a leaflet explaining the new national data opt-out. The national data opt-out choice can be viewed or changed at any time by using the online service at www.nhs.uk/your-nhs-data-matters

Gaining access to the data we hold about you

Exercising the Right of Access (Subject Access Requests)

Individuals can find out if we hold any personal information by making a request under the Right of Access under the GDPR, more commonly called a 'Subject Access Request' under the GDPR. If we do hold information about you we will.

- Give you a description of it;
- Tell you why we are holding it;
- Tell you who it could be disclosed to;
- Let you have a copy of the information in an intelligible form; and
- Correct any mistakes to information held

Everybody has the right to see, or have a copy, of data we hold that can identify you, with some exceptions. You do not need to give a reason to see your data, but you may be charged a fee.

If you want to access your data you must make the request in writing. Under special circumstances, some information may be withheld. If you wish to have a copy of the information we hold about you, please note that there may be a charge for this (of up to £50).

For further information on how to make a request please visit our corporate policies page on our website - <http://www.surreyheathccg.nhs.uk/policies-publications/corporate-policies>

Sometimes they can do this without telling us who you are. We have a statutory duty under the Health and Social Care Act 2012, Part 1, Section 26, in securing continuous improvement in the quality of services provided. Data processor – We process data given to us by GP’s and other health care professionals that may include details of the care you have received and any concerns about that care. In order to look into these concerns we may need to talk to other organisations such as other local CCGs as well as other Public bodies and Government agencies such as NHS Improvement, the Care Quality Commission, NHS England as well as the Providers of your care. |
| Commissioning, planning and contract monitoring | Purpose – To collect NHS data about services we have commissioned to provide services to you. We also work with other local CCGs and often hold joint contracts and commission joint services to make best use of the money available to us. We set our reporting requirements as part of our contracts with NHS service providers and do not ask them to give us identifiable data about you. Legal Basis - Our legal basis for collecting and processing information for this purpose is statutory under the Health & Social Care Act 2012 chapter A2 establishment and duties. Data Processor – NHS Digital collect various data sets from NHS service providers that have been agreed locally. All identifying information about you is removed by NHS Digital before the information is made available for the CCG to monitor and manage its contracts. We also have signed a Data Sharing Framework and Data Sharing Agreement with NHS Digital and have been given approval to use a wide range of data to help us commission care services. This agreement makes sure that we only process data that does not identify you, that we keep the information secure and we do not share it without the agreement of NHS Digital. | Cabinet Office | Purpose – The Cabinet Office is responsible for carrying out data matching exercises. Data matching involves comparing computer records held by one body against other computer records held by the same or another body to see how far they match. This is usually personal information. Computerised data matching allows potentially fraudulent claims and payments to be identified. Where a match is found it may indicate that there is an inconsistency which requires further investigation. No assumption can be made as to whether there is fraud, error or other explanation until an investigation is carried out. We participate in the Cabinet Office’s National Fraud Initiative: a data matching exercise to assist in the prevention and detection of fraud. We are required to provide particular sets of data to the Minister for the Cabinet Office for matching for each exercise, as detailed here. Legal Basis –The use of data by the Cabinet Office in a data matching exercise is carried out with statutory authority under Part 6 of the Local Audit and Accountability Act 2014. It does not require the consent of the individuals concerned under GDPR. Data matching by the Cabinet Office is subject to a Code of Practice. View further information on the Cabinet Office’s legal powers and the reasons why it matches particular information. https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/code-of-data-matching-practice-for-national-fraud-initiative |
| National Registries | National Registries (such as the Learning Disabilities Register) have statutory permission under Section 251 of the NHS Act 2006, to collect and hold service user identifiable information without the need to seek informed consent from each individual service user. |
| Research | Purpose – Data may be collected for the purpose of research. Research can be undertaken using information that does not identify you (anonymised). The law does not require your consent to be obtained in this case but information should be made available to you where your anonymised data is used for the purposes of research. Information can be made available either in waiting rooms, using information leaflets, published on notice boards, waiting room screens and/or an organisations website. Where identifiable data is needed for research, you may be approached by an organisation who has provided you with care and asked if you wish to participate in a research study. Where identifiable data is required, an organisation must obtain explicit consent. A member of the research team will discuss the research study |

They will add a code to your records that will stop your information from being used for research. Legal Basis – Your consent will be obtained by the organisation holding your records before identifiable information about you is disclosed for any research. If this is not possible then the organisation wishing to use your information will need to seek formal approval from the Confidentiality Advisory Group (CAG).
